Single Tax Soon Makes Land Monopolist Squirm

The explanation of the abandonment of its ore land leases by the Steel Trust is simple enough. It found itself up against the Henry George idea given a practical application by the taxing authorities of Michigan and Minnesota and with an alacrity which should be impressive to those who say the single tax will not work, the big trust decided to let go. Every other trust would do the same thing under the same gentle compulsion. But most of your trust-busters continue to rely on other means.—Johnstown (Pa.) Democrat.

Money Kings to Educate the People's Servants

The big financial interests which have their headquarters in Wall street have reached the conclusion that it will be worth one million dollars to put the "Aldrich banking plan through Congress."

An organization, known as the "National Citizens' League for the Promotion of a Sound Banking System" has been formed, and the work of raising funds already is under way in all the big cities of the country.

Just how the money will be used to "put the bill through" has not been made clear. In Philadelphia the funds, as soon as they are collected, are being deposited in the Girard Trust company bank, and to the bankers who subscribe it was explained that "pressure would be brought to bear on the members of Congress."

Fifty Per Cent Profit and Two-Thirds Water

How long must the people continue to pay express companies a profit of 40 per cent a year on money that is not invested in the express companies, and that exist in blue air only?

This is a question that the people desire answered, and one that they are beginning to become impatient about, judging from the ever-increasing number of communications on this subject that are being received by members of Congress.

"Express companies ought to be permitted to make a good liberal rate of interest on money actually invested," writes an Iowa man to his Congressman. "The thing that arouses our disgust is that the government permits express companies to extort a profit of from 25 to 50 per cent on a capitalization that is two-thirds water. I would like to see a parcels post. If we cannot have a complete system, why can't we at least have a limited parcels post to start with, effective only between towns and cities and the surrounding country? Such a limited system would help rather than injure the business of the retailers. Think it over."

The Interstate Commerce Commission's report shows that the net income from the express companies' operation is $11,000,000, and on their own valuation of $27,000,000, their profit is shown to be approximately 40 per cent.

It is known that the actual values of the express companies' equipment is less than one-half of what they allege, so that their profits on money actually invested run up to nearly 100 per cent.
